

Transparency In Coverage: GE Appliances Health and Welfare Benefit Plan for Employees

Federal regulations known as the Transparency in Coverage Rule require the GE Appliances Health and Welfare Benefit Plan for Employees (the “GE Appliances Plan”) to make certain machine-readable data files (“MRFs”) available to the public beginning July 1, 2022. The MRFs include medical plan pricing information regarding in-network rates for covered items and services and out-of-network allowed amounts and billed charges for covered items and services.

MRFs for the medical plan options offered under the GE Appliances Plan are maintained by and hosted on the websites of the third-party administrators and insurers who administer those plan options. Links and instructions for locating the MRFs are below.
